Vibbeaters - Vibb eaters' consist largely of our own dedicated copper-based sand mixture with the addition of small quantities of, amongst other things, specific precious metals. The properties of this mixture offers very interesting characteristics, particularly in the areas of magnetic fields, field effects, as well as dealing with physical vibration & surface energy. When you place a 'Vibb eater' on top of your loudspeaker speaker or on top of your electronic equipment the vibrations and various magnetic fields that come from the box's are absorbed, then through the mechanical friction between the copper granular mixture the excess energy is converted into very low level heat.

Lynx feets - Vibration and energy is guided through the base of the foot to our proprietary sand filled tunnel-construction where the energies are directed towards the labyrinths in the side of the Lynxfoot. Here they are transformed into heat. Airborne vibrations and micro vibrations from the equipment itself are then guided down through the supporting pad on the upper surface of the Lynx foot where the energy is directed to different labyrinths in another part of the foot. This complex arrangement is to ensure that all energy paths are dealt with independently and to maintain a solid foundation.

ES Pad - Improving upon the Lynxfeet was always going to be a very difficult job but as with all things Entreq we discovered the solution & the way forward through the developments of our other new products. With the design of the ES Pad we have focused on the transfer of very high frequency vibrations & energy. In our design process we found that this area of the frequency spectrum had a far greater influence on actual sound quality than we would have ever thought possible. The ES Pad is barely 35mm high and incorporates a threaded multi faceted hard acrylic base, with a mineral filled soft Pad making direct contact with the equipment or product itself. These are incredible performers with a consistent performance!

Cable Wraps - In every cable that transports an alternating current a magnetic field is created. The fields are strongest where the cables are plugged in and where there are any subsequent connections. Using AC Wraps offers a calm stability to the sound, even with cheaper Power cords and cables. If you are already using more expensive cable's, we are delighted to say that no matter the brand it will work better with an Infinity AC Wrap. They do however have other interesting applications! Try them on your speakercables. It might be the most praiseworthy upgrade you ever done.

Victoria Cable Lifters - Many say that vibrations picked up by cables being layed on the floor impacts on the sound. All we can say is that we have many theories but have been unable to prove categorically what causes this issue ; vibrations, static electricity etc etc... we really don't know for sure! There are however definate advantages to be had with cable lifters. We have designed our own cable lifters from slim, non-magnetic material.

Analog Interconnect Cables - HighEnd - Infinity Line

Nature is the best constructor ever, but also in nature there are endless evolutions. During 2017 we have developed and upgraded all our cables to the Infinity line. The Infinity lines improved connectors, the Infinity tubes, the high pressure technique used on EEDS together with our groundboxes gives you a flow and sound quality that we think is unique. All the cables that are connected to a stereo set work as transmitting/receiving antennas. We feel that the length of the cables (antenna effect), their ability to handle really high frequencies and that there is a straight signal path without bottlenecks are all far more important parameters than are inductance and capacitance. Adapting the connectors according to the design of the cable is crucial to the result, in our opinion. If one uses ready-made contacts, one must simply adapt the cable to the contacts. That is why we always manufacture our own contacts with wooden frameworks. A material that is completely non-magnetic and non-conductive and which does not affect the signal at all, the way plastic or metal do. For the contact surfaces themselves, we use pure silver/cooper, where silver is used for positive and copper for negative. Furthermore, all of our signal/loudspeaker cables feature our EEDS (External Earth Drain System).

Speaker Cables HighEnd with Entreq Spades as Standard - Infinity Line

It is the same thing with HiFi in general and cables in particular. If a cable is not neutral, but rather has tones in some register, for example a sharp treble, one can try to compensate with a cable later in the chain that roles off and is softer at the top. One simply can start to correct the mistake by making other mistakes and then the result will be as in the sentence above: contrived and forced. All our cables have a neutral resonance as no register stands out. In addition to good placements in depth and with, they offer a well-placed high sound image. This is no singer holding the guitar high over his head or a piano with sawn-off legs.

Power Cables HighEnd - Infinity Line

As we see it, the power cable is the most important cable in the jungle of cables. If it is not correct here, you can try to compensate for the error in the power cable further down in the chain, i.e., compensate for errors by making other errors. There are many sceptical people who feel that since the power is conveyed for miles down ordinary wires that it is just silly to believe that the last few metres are significant. Add to it the fact that each device has a glass fuse in its IEC contact and it can seem even more logical that the power cable does not have an effect. And I must admit that I can understand that many are incredulous. However, once you have test a good Power Cord, you realize how important they are.

Powerus with Outlet for Tellus/SilverTellus - Infinity Line

Actually you ARE indeed listening to your wall outlet. Ultimately the final sonic result from any music system depends entirely on how well you have managed to deal with all the sources of interference found in and around the Power, Power supplies & the associated Grounding of each and every product in your system. It is that power that is converted into soundwaves and therefore, in our opinion, the power and ground is where you should start when you are trying to build a natural sounding system. If you don't get it right from the start you will simply be ameliorating inherent problems with further links down the audio chain. Our Power distribution systems work in three distinct areas. Distribution, Cleaning and subsequent Grounding

RG 45 HighEnd Cables - Infinity Line

For more than three years we have worked with streaming and RG45 cables trying to get same quality as from CD transport. We knew it should be possible and also understand that the RG45 cable was the bottleneck. You can't compare a RG45 cable with a FW, USB or normal digital cable. It's something totally different. When we began our investigation about RG45 cables the two first years we could not get any grab about it. Now, nearly one year and endless of listening tests later we can present a complete line of RG45 cables. From entry level to real High End. All of them with our EEDS. With this RG45 cables, a good router, a PC with Windows 10 and one of our Serie II USB cable you will be able to stream with a sound quality you only thought good CD or Vinyl could present. In my opinion you get close to the same natural sound from Spotify as you get from the best CD transports on market.

Headphone Cables - Infinity Line

Higher quality headphone cables are available for a wide range of headphones and earphones, offering different conductors, different connectors, balanced options and also alternative lengths from the stock cables that usually come supplied. Here again Entreq utilizes the best range of proven technologies from our other cable categories like, separate cable for positive and negative signals, asymmetrical design, positive and negative cables are spun clockwise and anticlockwise respectively, adapted lengths to minimise the antenna effect, DIC Dedicated contacts so the area on the mass of the contact areas correspond to the cable area, wood in the contact framework (non-magnetic and non-conductive), only pure copper or/and silver in the signal paths (no alloys), drain wire instead of shielding in order to connect to a pure earth point (External Earth Drain System), cotton covering instead of synthetic materials, 10 EEDS External Earth Drain System, on all cables from Challenger and above we attach a Infinitytube with a silver/copper mix.

Cleanus - Infinity Line

These products are completely passive mains filters. You could more accurately describe them as high frequency seperators. High frequency interference and OTHER contaminants are dramatically reduced but without ANY loss of dynamics or dynamic constraints. The result is a quiet and pitch black background. If you connect to Silver Tellus or Olympus Tellus you will get even better impact. What else would you expect from Entreq... Using a hard wired Entreq Power cable, you simply plug the Cleanus into an available receptacle in your system. An Entreq Ground point is included which can be connected to a any groundbox with Eartha cable for increased performance.

Cleanus	Passive Mains Filters	Oak	piece	1324,00 €	Power cleaner without any dynamic limits
Silver Cleanus	Passive Mains Filters	Oak	piece	2538,00 €	High End with silver interconnect
Apollo Cleanus	Passive Mains Filters	Oak	piece	3Ê531,00 €	Apollo Line
Atlantis Cleanus	Passive Mains Filters	Oak	piece	5Ê076,00 €	Atlantis line

Groundboxes

Why use our Ground Box's ? You will get an improvement in dynamic's, a lower noise floor and more natural flow in the sound. For us a clean and effective ground point is one of the most important factor's in ensuring the best possible sonic platform for any hifi system! One big problem is that the protective ground many time are overloaded or not constructed for handle this pollutions. It can handle a real "bang" of 110-220Volt and X Watts without any problems, but when it come to this small currents of some Milli V with very high frequence it dont catch them. So instead these will flow arround in the power system searching for a place to ground. Our ground boxes / Eartha cables are designed to resemble and work like a bit of Mother Earth in concentrated form and offer the simplest and fastest route for this high-frequency noise to reach a earth point. The construction and choice of materials in the earth box has a crucial effect on the result. In part, the minerals and metals involved have an effect, but the relationship of proportion and distance between them also affects the result. When you connect your system to one of our groundboxes you offer this high frequency stay voltages a ground point where they can find peace instead of flowing arround in the system.

Groundbox Aecessories

Atlantis - These are boosters that in first hand was made for use with Tellus line for give that line nearly same performance as Olympus line. But you can connect both the Tellus and Olympus line to Atlantis for even better performance. The Atlantis should be placed on top of the other ground box and connected with a special dedicated cable (this is included with the Atlantis).

Atlantis Minimus	Groundbox	Oak	piece	728,00 €	Add to Silver Minimus or Tellus. Make Tellus to a Silver Tellus. Supplied with the cable for connection.
Atlantis Tellus	Groundbox	Oak	piece	2 428,00 €	Add on box for Silver Tellus, supplied with cable for connection

Receivus - Entreq Receivus absorbs energy such as RFI and EMI noise when placed directly on electronics. This results in a lower noise floor, improving imaging and micro detail. They also increase dynamic range and contrast, creating a more emotional experience when listening to music. The Entreq Receivus requires an Entreq Eartha Cable with Spade-to-Spade connectors. One end with the spade attaches to the Entreq Ground Box. Standard length is 1.65 meters (5.4 feet), other lengths are available by special order at additional cost.

Receivus SB	Groundbox	Oak	piece	474,00 €	Drain unit with Silver binding post.

K2 and Everest Endcaps - You simply replace the wood caps on your existing ground box with either the K2 or Everest product and boost your existing ground box to the another performance level. When we at Entreq found a massive new breakthrough for our metal/mineral mix, used within the Ground boxes, we were suddenly faced with a delicate problem. The convenient solution for us would be to release a totally new line of Ground boxes with far better performance than our existing ones. It would of course be easy for us but not particularly fair to our existing customers who have already invested money in our products. So just like Hasselblad we accepted the challenge to find a solution where all the benefits from our new discoveries could be incorporated & applied to all existing Ground boxes and work, without limits, with our wide range of Eartha cables.

K2	Groundbox	Oak	piece	177,00 €	Add on unit for groundboxes, mix of 2 metals, elevates 1 level in technology
Everest	Groundbox	Oak	piece	243,00 €	Add on unit for groundboxes, HighEnd, mix 4 metals, elevates 1 level in technology

Ertha Groundcables - Infinity Line

These cables are designed for direct connection to your electronics / computer / music streamer via currently unused RCA , XLR or USB inputs or outputs. The RJ45 connector can also be employed on your Digital streaming device but is most effective on your source router and/or NAS drive. The cable is terminated with an Entreq spade at one end (this connects to your carefully chosen level of partnering Entreq ground box) and with an Entreq designed RCA , XLR , USB or RJ45 ground connection at the other end (this then connects to your selected piece of equipment). Infinity Line is a milestone in Entreqs history. It is hard to believe that an Earth/Grounding cable could have such a huge impact on the sound quality! Spontaneously, you feel that the design of a cable not used to convey signals, but rather to connect to the earth, should not have any effect on the sound. However, the choice of materials and the design of the earth cable produces completely different results. Hence we producing the Ertha cables in the following ranges and are in an ascending order of performance : Copper , Discover, Konstantin , Challenger , Silver , Apollo , Atlantis and Olympus.

ATHENA & WILMA HiFi racks

Available in different configurations and of course one of the exciting add-on options is grounding. The Athena support system is a culmination of Entreq's knowledge & combined technologies brought together in a support system primarily focused on the control of unwanted physical parasitic energy, high frequency noise & electronic/electrical based field effects. Therefore, by default, it bears little resemblance to almost any other support system currently available. This is simply because it tackles a gamut of problems that traditional HiFi Racks do not take in to consideration. The Athena is therefore far more effective on many levels than any comparably priced solution and can be configured in both performance and price terms to suit each customer's system requirements, thus ensuring a dramatic reduction in the noise floor on all three fronts.
